Why Study in Widyatama?

Widyatama University is private university that is owned by Widyatama Foundation. History of Widyatama was started when Bandung Institute of Accounting (IAB) in Bachelor Degree program was established in March 1973 on the initiative of Mrs. Dra. Koesbandijah Abdoel Kadir. Ak., a professional accountant, whose all her life as a lecture had been dedicated to education.

In 1976, the foundation as a caretaker founded Bandung Management Institute (IMB) offering bachelor degree in Management Studies. Both institutes (IAB and IMB) became Bandung School of Accounting and Business Management, which on 3 September 1979 was named Bandung School of Economics (STIEB).

The school's existence was widely recognized by the society, accordingly, it encouraged the Foundation to set up other institutions namely: Widyatama School of Engineering (STTW, 1995); Bandung School of Languages (STBB, 1996); School of Visual and Communication Designs (STDKV, 1999); Widyatama Post Graduate Management Program (MM-Widyatama, 2000); and Widyatama Accounting Professional Program (PPA-Widyatama, 2004).

Widyatama University

It was established by Ministerial Decree on 2 August 2001, integrating the schools mentioned above. The integration was aimed to produce more qualified and more competitive graduates, more focused educational management. Widyatama University's next step is devoting all-out, serious and consistent effort to gain internationally recognized standard of educational services ISO 9001:2008 (upgrading process to ISO 9001:2015)

Why Study in Indonesia?

Studying in Indonesia is a once in a lifetime opportunity. Not only receiving a qualified education, but also acclimating with the culture around you on a daily basis.

The environment surrounding you is stunning, and there are many places to travel and visit while you are studying.

Indonesia is a beautiful country located in Southeast Asia, and it is the world's largest island country, situated between the Pacific and Indian oceans.

It is a home to around 260 million people, which makes Indonesia becomes the fourth largest country in the world.

Universities

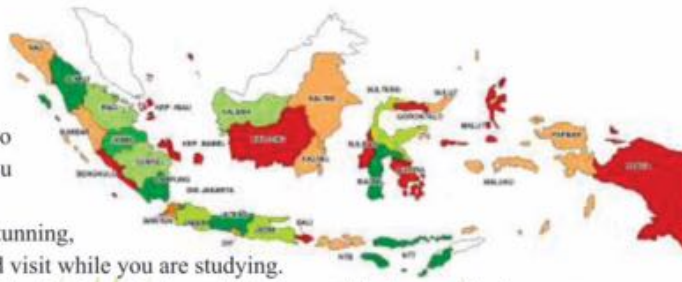

Nearly 3,000 public and private institutions of higher education exist in Indonesia, including around 120 state universities, which provide wide variety of universities to be choose for students. There are four types of higher education institutions including universities, institutes, academies and polytechnics.

Academic Year

The academic year at most universities has two semesters, even and odd, each 16 weeks long and followed by exams. The academic year begins in early September and finishes in June.

Languages

Bahasa Indonesia (Bahasa) is the national language, but there are over 700 other indigenous languages that are spoken in Indonesia. Many people speak both Bahasa and the local languages they grew up around, making them bilingual or even multilingual. Students have the opportunity to immerse themselves in the culture of Indonesia, perhaps even picking up the national language. When you are at university, there will be students and professors that can speak English fluently.

Why Study in Bandung?
